KOH LANTA CHALLENGE

An adventure worthy of a survival show. Embark on an unforgettable journey and become exceptional adventurers! Gather your colleagues and combine teamwork, skill, physical strength, and strategy to complete this experience.

Some examples of activities include: the rope puzzle, the orienteering challenge, the blind race, the obstacle course, and even insect tasting!

👉 Employees are divided into several teams.

◻ You will compete in physical challenges, worthy of the greatest obstacle courses.

🏆 The best team wins the victory trophy!

PERFUME CREATION

Explore the olfactory and advertising language of fine perfumery before creating your own fragrance or one for your company.
Go behind the scenes during this event.

Your guests begin with a 30-minute presentation on perfumes in advertising, decoding the visual codes and revealing the secrets of the greatest men's and women's fragrances. Then, through a group brainstorming session, they translate your company's values into olfactory language by creating a personalized perfume.

✿ A discovery of perfumery through its olfactory and advertising language, punctuated with anecdotes and blind tests.

🌿 Participants create their own perfume, or one that represents your company, based on the olfactory family of their choice.

Everyone leaves with their own creation at the end of the workshop.

CITY PLAY

In small groups, explore your chosen city to uncover and complete a series of unique and ingenious challenges. Each group is equipped with an interactive tablet that will guide them to strategic points. From puzzles to photo challenges and unexpected questions, each stage requires creativity, strategy, and teamwork. Will you be able to accumulate the most points and top the leaderboard?

- ⌚ A course designed especially for you, with challenges that will surprise and delight.
- 🌟 As our host gives the starting signal, get ready to rediscover your city in a new light—every corner has its own story, every challenge its own thrill.
- 🎉 The climax: the crowning of the champion team and the discovery of the challenges completed by the teams.

CAR(D)BOARD

As a team, collaborate to create a car using a provided blueprint.

You'll be provided with materials and tools. You'll also need to decorate your vehicle (in the company's colors, for example), And imagine the equipment and roles of each person. Note that you'll also need to come up with an original and creative presentation for your vehicle. The vehicle must also be driven in the final race!

BUILD A BRIDGE CHALLENGE

Working in teams, create a bridge representing a country, using a distinctive monument, made of wood and cardboard. Manage limited resources and adhere to a set timeframe, while respecting the initial specifications provided by our facilitators. A railway line will then cross all the participating countries, allowing a train with an onboard camera to travel alongside it. The image will be broadcast live on a giant screen so that all participants can enjoy the spectacle.

- 💛 Participants are divided into teams of 6 people
- 🔧 Role assignments, construction of the worlds, the bridge, and the railway line
- 🏆 The grand finale of the challenge with the broadcast

LEADERS TEAMBUILDING

For each team, composed of 6 or 7 members, the goal is to score as many points as possible by completing 6 or 7 very different challenges.

But be warned, each round brings a significant organizational change as the leader rotates. For 20 minutes, their role will be to guide the team through the challenge, whether they succeed or fail. The leader is the only person with the rules but has complete freedom to intervene, to help their team as much or as little as they like. And that's what's going to be interesting!

STEP BY STEP

Think a pen is only good for writing? Hmm. You'll quickly change your mind after participating in this team-building game with a green and sustainable focus.

You'll be transformed into mad scientists, conducting a completely original experiment: repurposing everyday objects to create the longest and most mind-blowing chain reaction. Be warned, this team challenge will quickly become addictive!

On the agenda? Upcycling everyday items. Dropping them, rolling them, making them jump.

WINE TESTING

Grab your wine glasses and pencils! Here's a creative and original project to complete from start to finish with your colleagues.

The mission is simple: create an exceptional wine and present it to a jury that's anything but ruthless.

In teams, you'll choose a region, create your own wine, invent its story and name (oh, the storytelling!), and don't forget to design its label.

To complete this project, gather as many clues as possible, buy your wine samples, and negotiate for your accessories.

An original team-building activity that highlights your oenological skills, your creativity, and your ability to collaborate and manage a short project from beginning to end. The kind of extraordinary challenge that will teach you as much about wine as it does about your colleagues.

SAVE THE WORLD

Fancy saving the world?

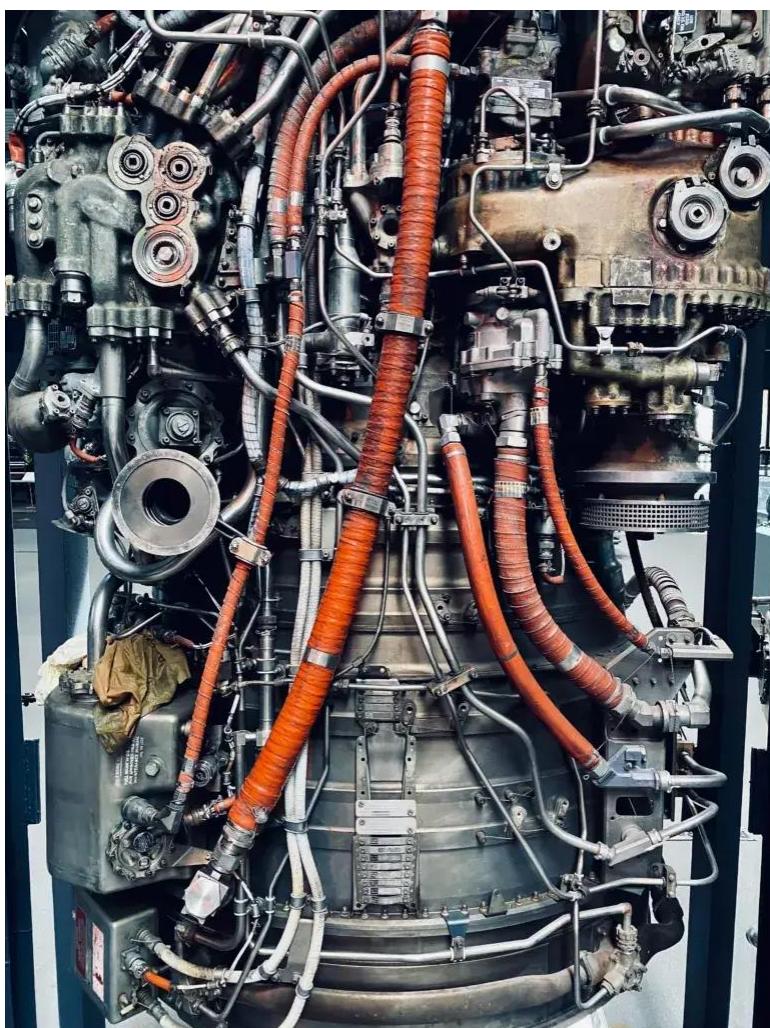

Here's the premise: Professor X has created a machine capable of producing enough energy to power the entire world. But his invention has fallen into the hands of villains.

And now all of humanity is threatened...

In this escape game, you'll need to keep a cool head and work as a highly effective team.

Don't waste any time; you have 90 minutes to disable the 8 modules of this infernal machine.

We're counting on you to rise to the challenge!

PICK THE ANTIDOTE

If you want to escape unscathed, you have 1 hour and 30 minutes to find the antidote, hidden in a locked black chest.

Your only aids: a 3D printer, which is creating the key needed to open this chest in real time. And 10 other chests, each containing a challenge or a puzzle.

Tick-tock, tick-tock, don't waste any more time!

You'll have exactly 5 minutes per challenge.

After that time, the next challenge will start automatically. It's up to you to manage your timing!
